About Seminar

Infertility is an emerging global health concern affecting physical, emotional, and social well-being. With changing lifestyles, stress, delayed marriages, and environmental factors, its incidence is rising rapidly. For students and doctors, understanding infertility is essential to provide holistic and ethical care.

Ayurveda offers valuable insights through concepts like Ritu, Kshetra, Ambu, and Beeja, emphasizing balance of body and mind, while modern science contributes advanced diagnostics and assisted reproductive technologies.

Integrating Ayurvedic principles with modern medical advances enables comprehensive, patient-centered management. This seminar aims to bridge both sciences, fostering informed, compassionate, and effective approaches to infertility care.
